UM LAW STUDENTS HOLD
ANNUAL MOCK TRIALS

MISSOULA--

Senior law students at the University of Montana have begun holding annual mock trials designed to simulate actual courtroom experiences. The trials are held at 6:45 p.m. every Monday and Tuesday in the UM law school, jury room 202.

The trials, part of the courtroom and office practice class required of all seniors, are conducted with two students acting as counsel for each side of a law suit. Both personal injury and criminal cases are tried.

Instructing the class and acting as judges are Missoula attorneys Sherman Lohn and Jeremy Thane.

The jury, usually composed of eight members, is selected from a list of volunteers. UM students or Missoula residents wishing to serve as jurors may sign the list in the basement of the UM law school.

The mock trials will continue through April.
